The game currently uses local cookies for the save function and I've been wondering what the best way to prevent a user from viewing the contents of the cookie. I'll give a couple of examples of the kind of data I'm interested in protecting: 1) Player ID/Class ID 2) Job status 3) Skill levels What are some methods that I can use to protect the data from someone without it being straightforward for them to read? A: Cookies are always sent from the client to the server via HTTP, but

It would be nice if this was fixed because this is not good! I got this to play on Steam. Oct 10, 2016 I am having the same problem. I can't play online with another person unless I join a localhost. I only get a black window and nothing else occurs (no game screen, no mouse pointer, no error messages). May 29, 2007 I am having the same problem with Windows 7. I can get online with one other person on the same computer running the game. When I try to play with a second other person on the same computer, I get an error message ("You need to download the game or contact the publisher"). Sep 19, 2006 I played American Conquest again this morning and again I experienced the same error. The only solution that worked was to uninstall the game and start over. I'm still using Windows XP and this is one of the few games I've played that doesn't run without problems on this system. I'm really starting to get frustrated with the game. Please fix this problem. American Conquest: Divided Nation Patch Windows 10 I have the same problem with Windows 7. When I start the game, the first player is blocked by the firewall and I need to run the game as administrator. If I can't run it as administrator, when I join to play with another player the following error appear: "You need to download the game or contact the publisher.". Aug 25, 2006 I'm experiencing the same problem as the other Could someone please fix this asap? I've tried to download the game several times already, but every time I get the same error. Apr 16, 2005 I have problems to connect to the server and I need to download the game... I have this problem since I put a new hard drive, could someone tell me how to get it fixed?
